Introduction

The current multiannual financial framework – the EU’s long-term budget – runs until the end of 2027. In 2025, the Commission will adopt comprehensive proposals for the post-2027 multiannual financial framework and for the next generation of programmes that will receive EU funding. These programmes provide financial support to a wide range of beneficiaries across the EU – including universities, regions, towns, civil society organisations, businesses, farmers, students, scientists, cultural stakeholders and many others.

Following the Political Guidelines of President von der Leyen for the 2024-2029 European Commission, the Commission will work together for a simpler, more focused and responsive long-term budget that reflects the EU’s strategic priorities with the ambition to be an ‘investment Commission’. The multiannual financial framework for the period after 2027 must reflect this.

The Commission’s proposals will be designed to make it possible for the EU to deliver on the things that matter most, in areas where it can achieve more than Member States acting alone. This requires a careful assessment both of what has worked well in the past and what could be improved in the future. The next EU long-term budget will draw lessons from the current one – notably in terms of simplicity and flexibility, speed and strategic focus.

To gather evidence to support the preparation of these proposals, the Commission is launching a series of public consultations to gather views from all interested parties on how to make the very most of every euro of the EU budget.

To deliver on these objectives, this consultation covers funding in the following thematic areas: cross-border education, training and solidarity, youth, media, culture, and creative sectors, values (democracy, equality, rule of law, fundamental rights), and civil society. The decision to cluster issues serves to support the preparatory work and does not pre-empt the architecture of future programmes.

The questionnaire consists of three parts. Part 1 collects some information about you, while Part 2 contains question related to EU funds in this thematic area. Part 3 includes two closing questions.

It should take about 10 minutes to complete the survey. You can save your replies as a draft and finish them later. Please limit your additional comments on the questions with a free text box. You can upload a document stating your views at the end of the survey.

Creative Europe is the EU's only funding programme exclusively aimed at the CCS. The core funding strands—cooperation projects, European networks & platforms, Culture Moves Europe—provide important opportunities for cross-border cultural cooperation, exchange, mobility of artists and cultural workers and networking. Sector-specific initiatives such as Music Moves Europe, provide unique opportunities for tailored support.
